Wheat Weaker and Spread. Between May and July Largest of Crop.

CROWD AFRAID TO GET SHORT MUCH JULY

tash Corn and Futures Both Suffer from Weakness-Kansas City Turns Bearish on Situation.

OMAHA. March 25, 1805.

The speculative wheat market continues very nervous and erratic, and moreover very weak. No one seems to have fathomed to his own satisfaction the exact condition of the wheat market and the relation of the sastern speculators to the market. The May lost heavily this morning. It observed at $1.18%, but that was the best of the morning, and the market seldom reached $1.15, at which point it stood at noon. The low before that hour was $1.12. Wednesday the May ran from $1.14% to a cent higher. The July today ranged between $1½c and 90%c, whereas Wednesday the high and low were $1%c and $8c. The spread between the May and the July is the largest of the crop. At the close Wednesday night it was 21 cents. This would usually be considered large enough to make it a profitable thing to buy July and sell May, but now the crowd is afraid of the May because of manipulation, and so will not get short. The spread at Minneapolis is only 17%c, with the premium on the July there. Valentine is reckoned to have bought 2,000,000 bushele of May wheat in the last few days. It is rumored this is for Lichtstern, bought last September at about the present prices and carried over. It was the largest short line according to report. Cudaby is said to have soid 1,500,000 bushels lately. Liverpool closed with a loss of from ½ to ½ on the good American reports and expectation of large Argentina shipments. Berlin declined ½, Huda Peat 2½. Antwerp remained unchanged and Paris advanced 5 centimes. The Price Current finds conditions generally favorable for the crop and for spring seeding. Kansas City millers are offering flour for European selipment in July on the basis of $1 cents for the July wheat at Kansas City. It is wondered what effect this will have on Minnapolls. The Minneapolls mills ground 270,996 barrels of flour last week, this being an increase of 2,935 barrels. The primary receipts are $13,000 bushels, against $3,000 bushels last year.

The carn is not doing very well today, for the speculative market is of OMAHA, March 23, 1905.

mary receipts are 515,000 bushels, against 416,000 bushels last year, and the shipments are 227,000 bushels, against 553,000 bushels last year.

The carn is not doing very well teday, for the speculative market is off at least 160 and the cash situation calls for from 180 to 1c lower corn. The May this morning ranged from 48%c to 47%c before noon, against 48%c and 48%c for high and low Wednesday. In the Chicago cash market the sales at the lower price amounted to 150,000 bushels for domestic purposes and 135,000 bushels for export. Liverpool declined from 180 to 180 c during the morning on the cheaper American offerings. Kansas City has turned bearish on the corn, for the demand is said to have ceased and the receipts for the last few days to be three times those of the same days last year. The clearances reported today are 151,000 bushels, against 19,000 last year, and the shipments are 465,000 bushels against 315,000 bushels.

The inter-domestic demand for funds, however, shows signs of growth, and while there is no scarcity of money, yet the attitude of lenders towards speculative borrowers is not encouraging and additional care in the scrutiny of collateral for loans is reported. This outlook impressed the belief that stocks are not yet ready for any strong resumption of the upward movement and as a consequence prices moved in an unsettled way, suddenly running off during the final hour in some cases the lowest of the day, and then rallying strongly and closing firm at about the top level.
